RENAISSANCE SOLUTION SPOTLIGHT

RENAISSANCE RALLIES

“Maybe the kid’s a 4.0 or a 3.5, but he’s not a football player, he’s not a basketball player, so he would never get that recognition. To put the spotlight on that kid, that’s amazing.”

It’s THE party of the year - in the most meaningful way! It genuinely connects with students and you can see it in their posts about it on social media. Students and educators look forward to the rally because of how it brings the school together for lights, music, games, applause, laughter and recognition. All of those things are important to a Renaissance Rally, but the element that really sets it apart is the recognition. Unlike a typical pep rally, which might focus solely on sports teams or elite scholars, a Renaissance Rally is specifically designed to celebrate a broad number of students for academics and character, along with the staff and faculty that helped make those achievements happen. Shining the spotlight on these important achievements creates memorable moments and school pride. It also motivates students to do the right things so that they can be a part of the high energy acknowledgement that the Rally provides. Your rallies will quickly turn into a valued (and FUN) school tradition of celebrating teaching, learning, success and achievement.

“One of the unique things that really spoke to me, not just as an educator, but as someone who wants to promote the opportunity for kids to be better – better citizens, better community members, better versions of themselves – is the fact that Renaissance Rallies often provide opportunities for kids with unknown or untapped talents to showcase those in a positive venue. They know the crowd is supporting them.”
