Jostens has partnered with schools to bring together key messaging for communities, educators and students emphasizing the importance and value of graduation. A variety of Commitment to Graduate (C2G) ideas and resources present a framework of successful school-wide and grade level traditions that reinforce the value of the high school diploma, promote a college and career ready future, and instill an individual commitment to graduate from every student. Ideas are offered for specific school settings – elementary, middle, and/or high school – as each level is vital for goal setting, embracing traditions, and celebrating commitment from every student to strive for a high school diploma.
